

Mission Presbytery Guatemala Partnership

Thanksgiving

Gathered around a freshly planted garden, we spoke words of thanksgiving in three languages. Echoes of pigs, sheep, and birds joined with Mayan words. The fragrance of freshly tilled earth mingled with Spanish phrases. And brilliant colors illuminated familiar passages read in English. Indeed, standing beside our brothers and sisters we were surrounded by a multitude, praising God. Heaven not only touches earth in this place, but heaven and earth are gently woven together. And in this marvelous intermingling, one is drawn into the power of simplicity and the unspeakable hope held within all of God's creation.

Ruthie Douglass
La Cumbre Garden Project - February 2007 Mission Trip

Find out about future mission trips and ways you and your church can help the people of Guatemala at <http://www.cessmaq.org>.

Mission Presbytery Guatemala Partnership

Thanksgiving

Gathered around a freshly planted garden, we spoke words of thanksgiving in three languages. Echoes of pigs, sheep, and birds joined with Mayan words. The fragrance of freshly tilled earth mingled with Spanish phrases. And brilliant colors illuminated familiar passages read in English. Indeed, standing beside our brothers and sisters we were surrounded by a multitude, praising God. Heaven not only touches earth in this place, but heaven and earth are gently woven together. And in this marvelous intermingling, one is drawn into the power of simplicity and the unspeakable hope held within all of God's creation.

Ruthie Douglass
La Cumbre Garden Project - February 2007 Mission Trip

Find out about future mission trips and ways you and your church can help the people of Guatemala at <http://www.cessmaq.org>.

